FARM JOURNAL REVIEWS FARM BUREAU CONTEST

A writer in the Farm Journal has the following to say concerning the American Farm Bureau Federation and the election of President Thompson over Mr. O. E. Bradford, who retired after serving three years.

"Sam Thompson," as they call him in Illinois, may have views in regard to farm expert legislation that sound radical to those opposed. He has felt keenly the newspaper criticism that he is himself a radical. This he denies in emphatic terms. Those who know him best would characterize him as a pretty level-headed, square-shoot er. He is president of a bank in Quincy, Ill., and has managed the affairs of the Illinois Agricultural Association in recent years in an able manner.

While Mr. Bradford was refused reelection, after three years of cautious piloting the Farm Bureau craft through troubled waters, it is an injustice to say that he and his policies were repudiated. They were not. Mr. Bradford rather was sacrificed in order that harmony might prevail in the organization. New leaders and new ideas have been brought forward, frequently, a sign of hopeful import in any body.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is in a solvent financial condition for the first time since December, 1921. During 1925, under Mr. Bradford's guidance, past debts of more than $47,000 were paid off, and the year ended with a small surplus in the treasury. This was done despite the lowest annual income that the federation had had since it was organized.

Wide membership, as represented by paid-up dues to the national body, is the smallest it has been since 1921, there are reports from a number of states of an increased membership in sight. It would seem that generally over the country there is a slight upward turn, and a returning confidence in the organization upon the part of members.

The division of opinion over the McNary Haughton idea is the only rift of major importance on the horizon. There is no question but that midwestern states are largely in favor of it, regardless of what President Coolidge thinks.

Former Cedarvillian Writes About Los Angeles

Editor Cedarville Herald:

Dear Sir—

Having received a few copies of the Herald, by courtesy of my niece, Miss Martha Ramsey, daughter of my brother-in-law, Rev. Samuel Ramsey, (former Editor of The Herald), who are now living in their Canyon Home, near Sierra Madre, Cal., about 18 miles from Los Angeles, and who are still keeping up their Mission, in Los Angeles; I have noted some material of interest to me, in the Herald.

Among them were the 90th anniversary of my old neighbor and Elder of the Clifton U. P. church, of which I was then a member, Mr. Thompson Crawford.

I wish here to congratulate Mr. Crawford, on his arrival, at this mature old (Young) age in his full possession of his faculties and in possession of unusually good health for that age.

I do not know whether Cedarville is being disgraced by the law breaking bootleggers or not; but it is very evident that Mr. Crawford's longevity cannot be accounted for by having resorted to their methods of procuring and maintaining it. I could, (if so inclined) gamble, with the assurance, of winning on the above, from my long acquaintance with him.

In October I sent out a few notices of having arrived at the age of 80 years (Young), thus going to the limit of Psalm 90; and not experiencing

Firm Foundation To Build Character

Friday evening, Miss Elinor Miller, who is conducting evangelistic services at the First M. E. church, Xenia, addressed the young people on the subject of "Success." The church auditorium was well filled by Xenians and people from throughout the county.

Miss Miller emphasized the fact that in the building of character, a firm foundation is needed. Christ is our foundation and in God's sight we are not successful unless we accept Christ as our personal Saviour and build upon him as our sure foundation.

Miss Miller closed her service in Xenia Sunday evening, when she spoke upon an "Australian Love Story," which was told in a beautiful, impressive manner. It was the story of a Jewess of Australia who gave up her religion, her mother, brothers, and home for Christ and Christian service.

She closed her remarks by giving three charges to Christians: "Pray," "Read your Bible," and "Do personal work."

Judge Smith May Sue For Court Fees

Xenia City has had an unusual experience with her police court since the commission form of government was adopted. As a result of a suit filed by Frank L. Johnson, attorney, or clients, the Supreme Court held the police court illegal in that it provided for the appointment of a judge, when judges in Ohio must be elected. At the last election the charter was amended and the old form of mayor's court was restored. Johnson contends that fines collected by the police court must be refunded, something like $40,000.

E. Dawson Smith, ex-police judge, has made a formal demand on the City Commission for recovery of $709 in state fees he claims to have collected and turned over to the city. If the amount is not paid he announces that suit will be brought.

Dr. Kyle Will Seek Lost Bible Writings

An expedition, next spring, to the Holy Land, to find the lost books of the Bible is being sponsored by Dr. Melvin Grove Kyle, president of Xenia Theological Seminary of St. Louis.

This announcement comes to Greene county with a great amount of interest because of the Seminary which was formerly located at Xenia, and of the personal acquaintance with Dr. Kyle.

Dr. Kyle, in his intensive study of the Scriptures, is convinced that other excavators have failed to find the originals of Bible writings because they have not searched in the proper places.

One city mentioned in the Bible, Kirjath-Sepher, meaning "Book Town" is one at which Dr. Kyle expects to find some original manuscript of the Bible books.

With the recent discoveries at Beth Shean, where records of early Egyptian occupation have been unearthed, Dr. Kyle is very hopeful in the result of his enterprise.

County Auditor Wead Addresses W. R. C.

Members of the Greene County Lewis Relief Corps, No. 29, W. R. C. and Lewis Post No. 347 G. A. R. enjoyed a dinner in the Post Hall in the Court House, Friday. The organization had as their guests the County Commissioners and other city officers. Covers were laid for forty-five. The tables were prettily decorated with red, white, and blue candles of the same colors forming the center piece.

Mr. J. W. Hedges, presiding, gave a short talk on Lincoln, followed by talks by Commissioners Herman W. Baxley and J. Harvey Lackey. County Auditor R. O. Wead gave the main address.

Patriotic airs and readings followed the address and the dinner program was closed with singing of "America."

Farmers Are Shipping Under New Plan

The Greene County Live Stock Shipping Co. has been dissolved by action of the stock holders yet farmers have the opportunity of shipping by an arrangement whereby headquarters have been established at the co-operative elevators in the county.

The difference between the Farm Bureau and the Shipping Co. were of nature that agreement could not be reached and the latter company was dissolved. The Farm Bureau wanted a service manager but this could not be had without much extra expense.

Mr. W. H. Smith is shipping as he did previously for the company and has his headquarters at the co-operative elevators.

B. U. Bell Elected Vice President

At a meeting of the Southwestern Ohio Shortship Fair Circuit in Dayton Tuesday members decided to make the general admission to county fairs 50c instead of 25c. Greene county has been 50c for a number of years.

The officers elected were: I. L. Holderman, Dayton, president; Erant U. Bell, Xenia, vice president; C. W. Kline, Troy, secretary and treasurer. More than 100 members were present.

Happings About Courts

Judge Gowdy has denied the Dayton Power and Light Co. a new trial when a jury returned a verdict on November 20, giving the Alpha Seed and Grain Co., $24,000 damages in a suit for $32,100 as a result of a fire that destroyed the company elevator June 6, 1924.

Elmer Sharp, 37, has been given a sentence of one to seven years in the pen for stealing 58 chickens from Charles Sheridan of the Painterville road last January. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Wade Allen, 47, colored, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property. Sentence deferred.

Chester Hasty, 30, New Carlisle, pleads guilty to two charges of forgery. Sentence deferred.

Eber Pettiford, 23, colored, Yellow Springs, charged with attempting to break into a poolroom has been paroled by Judge Gowdy and placed in the custody of his uncle, Clayton Howard.

MUST RETURN MONEY

As a result of a Supreme Court decision Springfield must return about $270,000 to the original donors. The money was raised during the war for various purposes and this part represents the unspent amount. Suit was brought to relieve the committee responsible for the fund. It will be prorated back according to the original subscriptions.

REV. R. A. JAMIESON INSTALLED AS U. P. PASTOR

The installation services of Rev. Ralph A. Jamieson, pastor-elect of the United Presbyterian congregation, were held at that church last Friday evening, at a called meeting of the Xenia Presbytery.

The congregation was well represented, and fifteen members of the Presbytery were in attendance. The business meeting was in charge of Rev. A. G. Hastings, Reynoldsburg, O. Clerk, and Rev. L. L. Gray, of Jamestown, Moderator pro tem. The certificate of dismission of the new pastor from Charleston Presbytery was read and accepted. The call of the Cedarville congregation was then read to Rev. Jamieson, and formerly accepted by him.

Pursuant to the program set by Presbytery, the further conduct of the meeting was handed over to Rev. S. R. Jamieson of Sugar Creek congregation, a brother of the pastor-elect. In the installation sermon, preached from I Cor. 12:3, he stressed the importance of emphasizing the fundamental truths of Christianity.

Rev. Ralph A. Jamieson

After prayer by Rev. S. R. Jamieson, the formal questions were put to the pastor-elect and to the congregation.

The charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. R. H. Hume of Springfield, the oldest member of Presbytery. The authority of his long experience gave great weight to the advice which he gave to his younger co-pastor.

Rev. J. P. Lytle, of the Second Church, Xenia, charged the congregation to help make the pastorate most efficient. He presented the motto, "Crack up the pastor. Back up the pastor. Slack up the pastor." Presbytery then adjourned in due order.

Incidental to the main business of the meeting, were arrangements for the coming installation of Rev. H. D. McElree at the Second U. P. church, Xenia, which will take place April 12.

Tuesday evening the congregation tendered a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Jamieson and two daughters.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Rife, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jobe and Rev. and Mrs. Jamieson.

About 250 members and guests were present. members and friends were seated about the lecture room and in the auditorium while Rev. Jamieson and wife with other ministers were seated at one long table. The ministers and wives present were: Dr. J. White and wife, Xenia; Dr. W. R. McChesney and wife; Rev. Joseph Bennett and wife of the M. E. church; Rev. W. P. Harriman and wife of the R. P. congregation; Rev. A. E. Robinson and wife; Dr. P. A. Jurkat and wife; Rev. G. C. Kyle and wife; Rev. R. J. Following the dinner the congregation and guests gathered in the auditorium where a program was announced by Mr. Lloyd Confar, Chairman of the congregation.

The first was a piano and organ duet by Miss Lena Hastings and Prof. John A. Talcott, director of the choir.

The address of welcome on the part of the congregation to Rev. Jamieson and family was given by Mr. W. W. Galloway. This was followed by a vocal quartette number by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Turnbull Jr., and Miss Ruth Burble and Prof. Harley Smith.

Mr. G. E. Jobe represented the Session in welcoming Rev. Jamieson as pastor of the congregation.

Rev. W. P. Harriman spoke in behalf of the Ministerial Union and his remarks were warmly received.

LEAVES AIR SERVICE

Major Harris, one of the commanding officials at Wright field, has resigned and left the air service. He has many air records to his credit and is to engage in commercial aviation. The aviation department is losing many of its best men. Things are not right down in Washington. Official red tape is disrupting the service.

THEATRE NOTES

With the view of trying to cope with the requests that have been made by those who missed seeing "Rose Marie" on its former showing in Dayton, this lavish Arthur Hammerstein musical production will return to the Victory Theatre for one week, beginning Sunday, February 21st, with popular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Probably no more delightful show than "Rose Marie," which is both a musical melodrama and a musical comedy, has ever been produced in America. At least that is the general opinion among the critics in the United States and also in England, who declare that "Rose Marie" is a play in rich melody, beauty, drama and comedy—a play that may be seen and heard any number of times with enjoyment.

On its drama side, "Rose Marie" has the heart-interest of a romantic love affair between Jim Kenyon, the wild and reckless young miner, and Rose Marie LaFlamme, the dainty little French-Canadian girl. On its comedy side, there is the love affair between Lady Jane, proprietress of a backwoods saloon, and Hard-Boiled Herman, who is hard-boiled only in his estimation. The lives of these two couples are interwoven through intriguing devices of an adventurer and a society adventuress, who are aided and abetted by a half-breed Indian girl named Wanda—all of which results in Jim's being falsely accused of murder, and the intertwining into the plot of the now famous songs "Rose Marie," "Indian Love Call" and the famous "Totem Pole" dance number.

The company which will be seen in Dayton this time is the same one that alternated for over one year between Boston and Philadelphia and is now playing the large cities, such as Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and Chicago.

The cast is headed by Sam Ash and Dorothy Seeger and includes Charles Menkins, Bessie Gress, Hazel Gaudreau, Harry Koler, Ramona Kogan, George Anderson, Len Mence and Barry Walsh.

Pat Crowe's Ransom

Above is "Eddie" Cudahy, who when a youngster was kidnapped by the notorious "Pat" Crowe and held until a $25,000 ransom was paid by Cudahy Sr. Edward, Jr., now 49, is president of the $75,000,000 Cudahy Packing Co.—starting as billing clerk.

Dayton Department Store Burns; Big Loss

Dayton experienced a fire about 11:30 Sabbath night that caused a loss of nearly a million dollars. The fire started on the first floor of the Home Store, a large department store on Third street, with an entrance on Main street. The rear of the store is across a narrow street from the police headquarters and it was from the police office that the fire was first noticed.

It was early morning before the fire was under control but not until the Home store building was a complete loss as well as a number of other stores on Main and Third streets in the same block.

The American Building & Loan building was badly damaged although it was supposed to be fire proof. Five floors from the fourth story up were damaged.

At one time the fire department had 27 streams of water pouring into the Home Store building, at the rate of 11,500 gallons a minute.

Ross Hi and Cedarville Contest This Evening

As many or more followers of the game from this section will attend. Seats are going to be in demand. It will be necessary for outsiders to get there early. Seats have been reserved for the high school delegation.

BANQUET FOR GREENE COUNTY RED CROSS

The annual Red Cross banquet was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, at the new High School building in Xenia. Reverend Tilford, county chairman of the Red Cross presided. Dr. Potter of Antioch College was the speaker of the evening.

The hall and tables were decorated in red and white and a large Red Cross flag hung at one end of the room. The tables were arranged in the form of a cross and were decorated by white candles. A large bouquet of red carnations sent by the Kwanais Club, with the request that they be presented to Miss Helen Evers, the public health nurse, graced the center of the cross.

The program consisted of a Cello solo by Miss Lois Street, accompanied by her sister, Miss Helen Street, two vocal solos by Miss Mildred MacDonald, accompanied by Miss Mary McDaniel, and Dr. Potter's address. A short intermission then took place and the business of the evening was taken up.

The business consisted in a review of the years activities as given below. Red Cross Home Service Report: Calls at office 1419; calls from office, 700; Bonus claims completed, 166; Letters written, 1236; Affidavits sworn to, 62; New Cases filed, 112; Families dealt with, 1011.

Filed all kinds of Government claims. Gave material relief in many cases of real need. Gave Xmas baskets. Gave Xmas to ex-service men in hospitals. Investigations made for Government and local agencies. Four boys passed the Junior Life Saving Examination and three passed the Senior test.

Also the expansion of the County Board. Several names from Cedarville were suggested to fill the new offices, but nothing definite concerning the appointments will be known until the next meeting of the County executive board.

Dr. Potter in his address compared the work of the Red Cross to the life of Christ, emphasizing service as the too few take the correct attitude toward the work. They regard it merely as drudgery and do not get the idea of services back from their activities. He closed with the following story.

Once a large group of people had gathered together to welcome the arrival of a great prince. They met in a large banquet hall, and anxiously awaited the hour of five, for that was the time the prince was expected to arrive. Five o'clock came, was passed; the people grew impatient and tired, for all dressed finely for the event, and the majority were wearing new shoes. A knock came at the door. The butler stepped up, threw it open and behold, not the prince, but a poorly clad man, asking work. With a frown from the butler, ordered him to the servants entrance. Still the people waited and suffered, and finally, being unable to stand the pain longer, a man asked for a servant to loosen his shoes. The servant came—the one who a short time before had knocked at the front door—loosened the shoes of all and bathed their feet. Not a man recognized him as the long waited-for, Prince.

AS TO ENDORSEMENT

A campaign is approaching and the carefully written endorsement are being passed by politically controlled committees, and sent to the newspapers to be fed to the public as if the reader didn't know the origin of such self styled praise.

A little analysis of the endorsements given Senator (?) L. T. Marshall for a second term, will no doubt be interesting.

There are five counties in this district, Greene, Fayette, Clinton, Ross and Highland.

Marshall being the Kieagle of the Klan controlled county committee, it would be natural that he would get the endorsement of Greene county.

The endorsement from Fayette county comes from a committee controlled by Harry and Mel Daugherty. Harry left the Coolidge cabinet by request. Mel and Harry have been for two weeks before a U. S. grand jury in New York City. Harry refused to answer certain questions concerning government affairs and the Daugherty bank and was threatened with a jail sentence. He answered by saying that the papers wanted had been burned. Marshall gets a political endorsement from their committee.

Clinton county is controlled by D. Pemberton, former lobbyist for the Cincinnati liquor interests and is now a lobbyist and leader in the third house about the state capital. "D" was door man at the famous Deshler Hotel "Show Me the Way to Go Home" party last spring, when George Poor, celebrated in honor of Marshall, and others who proved true friends. At that party there was enough good Havana liquor to make Wayne B. Wheeler break out with "prickly heat", had he sighted the burdened tables. One undesirable reptile into that gathering. Upon the command of Marshall, who shouted, "Shut that door." "D" led the gentleman out and locked the door. Why should "D" now propose that Marshall be the next Republican floor leader and thus strengthen the position of the "third house"?

Ross county owes its Republican political rule to Frank Mauller, who sits on the Ohio Utility Commission making rates the public must pay, for gas, electric lights and telephone service. Frank has had a wide experience as a member of the "third house" and needs a good man in the Senate. So Ross county naturally gives its endorsement to Marshall. Poor is an associate on the same board and halls from the Hyndrick gang down in Cincinnati.

Highland county politics seems to be on a higher plain than the other four counties. D. Q. Morrow has been charged with numerous political crimes the past twenty-five years, and holds a tight line on his county when it comes to getting anything for the boys. If reports are true, when it comes to taking hold of the juicy plums that may fall. Either D. Q. is not all he is charged to be or else he shuns bad company in public and withholds an endorsement for our (?) Senator.

At any rate Senator (?) Marshall has the endorsements. Who dares be jealous of them? Why should he not pass them out to the newspapers without a blush or pain to his conscience. He is a graduate of the House of Geiger-Jones that has smeared the blood of the widow, the orphan, and the aged, on hundreds of lintels.

Marshall was the tool of the gang in Columbus that wanted the primary law knocked out. He allowed the use of his name on a bill in the last legislature to annul the primary law. Public sentiment smothered it. He has been faithful to all the interests pictured above. He should have their support. The "third house" has had a prosperous year. It wants another.

As a campaign suggestion the Bell Telephone Company, and the gas companies in the Fifth-Sixth District should print Senator Marshall's (?) picture on the back of the receipts handed the patrons as they pay their bills. It would be a fine tribute in recognition of faithful service.

CADMAN KNOWS HUMANITY

One of the most interesting, as well as instructive speakers heard over the radio each Sabbath afternoon, is the Rev. S. Parker Cadman of Brooklyn. Those that heard this learned speaker last Sabbath on "Washington" and "Lincoln" will endorse this statement.

If there is a public speaker who has a greater knowledge of humanity, its possibilities and weakness, we know not where to find him. His preaching is not sensational, rather the opposite. His oratorical power gives his plain spoken thoughts to the listener in a manner that is convincing. His broad vision for world evangelization includes other faiths than his own. At no time does he recognize the modern thought ideas, that have been placed before the world. If you have not heard Dr. Cadman you have missed hearing a wonderful speaker. If you have not a radio arrange with friends to enjoy the next sermon.

THE TERRIBLE PRIMARY LAW

Ohio has a primary law for the nomination of public officials in the state, districts and counties. The reason this law was passed and the only reason it was put in the constitution, was to check the hold of the gang politicians. Almost every daily paper you pick up nowadays you read about how politicians are trying to get away from the law, and have a rump convention to control the nominations rather than trust that task to the electors of the state.

Some one proposed a gentlemanly agreement among the dozen prospective candidates, a rather bold proposition to make. Politicians don't usually stay hatched that long. The city politicians are using a number of the rural "leaders" to put the convention idea across, but it will never be accomplished. The Republican state chairman a few days ago stated that a primary would be held.

One of the first candidates to openly state that he would not enter such a convention was Secretary of State Thad. H. Brown, without question the leading candidate for the governorship nomination. The Franklin County Republican committee refuses to recognize such a plan. The Franklin county Ministerial Association next put a crimp in the plans by declaring against it. The Republican Congressional delegation in Washington sees no use for a convention when the law calls for a primary.

The way farm leaders are roped in on such a proposition is best shown by the way Deputy State Auditor Harry Silver put his neck in a noose. Harry comes from Preble county and has been prominent in the Farm Bureau. Since becoming Deputy and on the state pay roll, Harry has left his felt boots, wool lined coat and canvas gloves back home. He is now hobnobbing with the city political slickers and trying to line up votes for himself at some future time. When he gets ready for the farm vote he will invest himself of that which he has divested, and go after the farmer vote, feeling that the ruralites don't know what is being done over in Columbus.

Harry being used to felt boots let his foot slip on the political pavement the other day. He announced a rural plan for a primary so that the rural counties could control the convention. The city slickers put one over on him. It was an old dodge and the public saw through it at once. It was so thin no one defended it. Even the Franklin county ministers refused to recognize it. As fast as the farmers learn of Silver's plan they too give him the laugh. Someone should tell Harry that Ohio is not to have a gang controlled convention.

With such a convention the gang politicians would have a real holiday. Two millionaires are receptive candidates. The wolves are hungry since the legislature adjourned. A convention with two millionaire candidates and what a harvest the politicians would have controlling a convention.

MORE GRAND-STANDING

They are at it up in Columbus. The grand-stand idea has hit the Attorney General, who is terribly wrought up about gambling around race tracks. It is Governor Donahey that Crabbe is after, not race horse gambling.

No one will deny that race horse gambling does not exist at each race meet about the big city tracks. The Attorney General has brought suit to revoke certain charters of racing companies. So good so far. It is nothing new. It has been going on all the time he has been in office and two tracks just a few paces from the state house.

Crabbe of course did not know this during his first term. Probably he has not been told that foot-ball and base ball gambling exists not only in a commercial form in Columbus, but in all the larger cities. His crusade should include all gambling.

It can be stopped just like it was during the Klan crusade in Xenia. Rum play was banned and even the Greene county prosecutor will admit that by his own efforts he stopped both race-horse gambling and rum gambling in Xenia. Whether anyone else would make the same admission is a question.

The Springfield Sun says the trouble with the Crabbe crusade is that it is being staged during the winter season when the racing takes place in the summer.

IT DIED AMONG FRIENDS

The Ohio Tax Association wants a change in the constitution for classification of property so that money will be given a low rate of tax. The organization urges action to this end at once.

Speaker Robert Taft, the imperial dictator of the legislature was there. So was Senator Vorys. They are for classification. Taft wanted the organization to endorse the acts of the last legislature. Vorys spoke in defence of the much discussed law that bears his name. The Tax Association wants classification and would not pass beautifully worded resolutions endorsing the legislature and the Vorys' Bill. It must have been

Stop Night Cough This New Way

Quick Relief Through Simple Treatment

Thousands who have been unable to sleep nights due to irritating night coughing can now obtain practically instant relief and sleep soundly the very first night—through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly, you sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

COLLEGE NOTES

The College Girls' Basketball team defeated the Springfield Y. W. team at Springfield, Friday night. The Springfield team carried a ten point lead till the third quarter, when the locals made fourteen points to their opponents' two. The final score was 31-25.

The following night the Alford Gym saw the defeat of the Dayton Y. M. C. A. team, a strong outfit from the neighboring city. The Yellowjackets outpointed the visitors constantly, and the final tally was 29-10. The preliminary was between the two girls' teams as the Plattsburg team failed to arrive.

As a preliminary to the Brill Bros. game, the College girls played the Dayton Power & Light team, leaders of the Dayton Industrial League. Boys rules proved too much for the locals and the score was 15-10 in favor of the Powerful and Light Girls.

The following members of the College Seminary delivered sermons Sabbath: Mr. Marvin Williams at Fletcher, Mr. Calvin Weimer at Leosardsville, and Mr. Day Kennedy at Sycamore. Dr. McChesney delivered two sermons at Hamilton.

Mr. Robert Choate spent the week end at Gettysburg with friends.

Mr. George Davis, a Freshman at College, has been sick with the measles but is again attending school.

Mr. Marvin Williams attended the dedication services of the Patterson Memorial church, at Dayton, Sabbath. Dr. Gara of New York City delivered the address.

The Journalism Class of Cedarville College started Monday, Feb. 8th with an address by Mr. Karl Bull, editor of the local paper. Mr. Bull spoke of his wide experience as a journalist, giving a short review of the years he had engaged in the work. The class is taught by Miss Bertha Dolby and is composed of fifteen students, some of whom expect to enter the journalistic field after leaving college.

Rev. Willam H. Tilford addressed the members of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the College Chapel, Wednesday morning. The subject of his talk was "The Life of Christ", which was illustrated with rag pictures. These pictures of which some were original and some copied from such artists as Soord, were made by Rev. Tilford. The incidents in Christ's life pictured in the silhouettes were made more impressive by hymns played by Martha Deah.

Nagley's Hall was the scene of a College, Freshman and Sophomore feed Wednesday evening. Better than fifty members of the two classes were present, and the following program was rendered:

Two saxophone solos, Kenneth Little; two readings, Robert Choate; two vocal solos, Herick Peacock; accompanied by Miss Helen Miller; two readings, James Beam.

The program was followed by several games, after which lunch, consisting of sandwiches, meat loaf, baked beans, pickles, Bavarian cream and pop. After lunch several stunts were performed and the enjoyable evening came to a close with the singing of several popular and college songs.

Flutes in Audience

Drown Opera in Berlin

Berlin—Invasion of the dignified Prussian state opera house in Berlin of an open-sided German theatrical troupe of blowing whistles when they are dissatisfied with the performance has resulted in many protests against the habit. The average German carries many large keys, hollow at one end, which he can use as a whistle when what is offered on the stage displeases him.

The effect of 100 key flutes in action is more pronounced than hissing or howling.

This was all right in ordinary theaters, but when the opera was invaded many persons concerned about the national manners began writing to the papers. Presentations of a jazz-classical symphony by the English composer, Lord Berner, recently were practically drowned out by the key flutes in the audience.

Invents Way to Alloy

Aluminum With Metals

Berlin—The discovery of a method for alloying aluminum with other metals, which will produce materials for many purposes, will have both color and finish "built in," is claimed by B. Jirotski, a German electrical engineer.

He has demonstrated his discovery to a commission of metallurgists of the German Institute of Chemical Technology.

He is said to have made alloys of aluminum and more than a dozen
